Vote for Honest Men.

will vote to place in office a man whom he knows to be dishonest. No citizen who respects himself, or has a spirit of independence, should vote for a candidate whose character for truth and integrity will not bear a close investigation. A men who, in private life, will lie to his fellow men; who will cheat, descive, and take every unfair advantage in business transactions, is certainly not one to be entrusted with the grave responsibilities of public office. He who has shown himself devoid of principle or conscience in the personal or private dealings, will not scruple to abuse a public trust, should the chance to do so easely be affected him.

But, it may be saked, how are citizens to hnew among all the candidates for public office, who are homes, who are the worthiest of support? The thing is easy to those who really desire to support the best men. There is really no difficulty—unless party prejudice is allowed to and integrity will not bear a close investiga-difficulty—unless party prejudice is allowed to blind the judgment—in ascertaining who are the citizen who does not take the trouble to ascermething about the character of candidates, or who does not exercise a sound discretion in the bestowal of his vote, neglects one of his most important duties as a member of a free, seif-goverring community.

In a Preskential or Congressional election, political partialities may fairly be allowed to en-ter; but from charter or local elections, politics should be excluded. There latter elections do not have any legitimate connection with the questions which engage the attention of the Federal Government, or the National Legisla-lature. The tariff, the decision of questions of foreign policy; the organization of the Army and Navy; the administration of public lands; the regulation of the affairs of the Territories ; the refere of the Post Office service; the granting of subsidies to Ocean Mall steamers, and the other subjects which, in national politics, divide public opir too, stand out as matters utterly distinct from the local issues which are involved in that political or party feeling should govern him n the choice of Mayor or Aldermen for this city? Does not every intelligent New Yorker know. that party elaptrap is used most in our municinal elections by designing knaves who seek some and of their own and not the triumph of any principle? Surely, then, when we see the very worst class of men being borne into office upon the tide of corruption, which rises higher in our city every year, the sober, solid men of New York should put aside all party feeling and unite in a sturry and powerful effort to save society from the diagrace and demoralization which will fellow the triumph of the reckless and deprayed.

The Last Day for Registering. Wa would remind citizens that to-day the re-istrars complete their lists for the December . Let no one entitled to vote neglect to have his name registered. Especially should those who desire to give a good Mayor to the city, attend to this duty of registration so that may not be impeded or hindered in voting upon Tuesday rext. Those who were registered previous to the last election, but did not vete, at that election, must appear again to have their names placed upon the new lists.

The Havemeyer Meeting To-morrow. THE merchants and citizens generally, without distinction of party, are now bestirring themselves in favor of the election of Mr. HAVE-METER to the Mayoralty. A meeting is called for to-merrow afternoon at the Merchant's Exchange, in Wall street-the call being signed by HAVEMEYER clubs and associations have been formed in various parts of the city, and the enthusiasm and confidence increase as election day

It is now so apparent that the contest lies between HAVEMEYAR and WOOD, that it is believed the other candidates may conclude to withdraw They cannot hope to be elected, and their remaining in the field can only serve the purposes of the political traders and wire pullers, who do not wish an honest man who cannot be used, in the Mayoralty.

The Breeklyn Ferrica.

THE Brooklyn Common Council has requested the Common Council of this city to direct the Comptroller to alter the terms upon which the Brooklyn ferries are to be re let, so that the lessee shalt be required "to run the several ferries at a uniform rate of fare, not exceeding the rate of fare collected by the Union Ferry Company January 1, 1854." The subject has been referred to a Conference Committee, and probably the change asked for will be made. The conon, however, even if granted, does no affect the character of the monopoly which the propried mode of re leasing the ferries is de-signed to establish. While all competitors are virtually shut cut of the field, the Union Company can make its own terms and interpret the lease to suit its own interests.

Staining and Politaking Marble.

The processes now in vogue for treating marble are probably equal, if not superior to anything practised by the most skifful artists of the ansient rchools. In staining this material the principal colors used are red, blue and yellow. The red and yellow may be prepared by reducing gambogs or dragon's blood to powder and grinding them separately in a glass vessel, with spirits of wine. The strong tincture, thus entracted, may be laid on the marble with a pencil, producing the finest traces, and pencitating deeply when the stone is heated. The blue is imparted by a watery solution of the drug known to dyers as Canary Turnsol. The marks are traced with a pencil, and strike deeply into the stone. The outline is circumscribed with wax, to prevent the color from spreading. A beautiful shade is thus produced, which is not likely to fade. The polishing process pursued by marble workers is commenced with the use of sharp sand, which is worked until the surface becomes perfectly flat. Three applications of fine and follow each other successively, and then of emery and tripoli, and the last pollah is given by the putty. The polishing rubbers are coarse inner cloths or bagging, wadged tightly into an iron planing tool. Water is used freely.

E. R. R. Co.—This was a motion on the part of the Bectiver of the Company, for leave to lease rolling stock of the Company, for leave to lease rolling stock of the Company, for leave to lease rolling stock of the Company to the leases of the Buffalo and New York city R. R., and was reported in The Sun of 23d November. Justice Strong has now granted the motion, which is in effect leave to the New York and Eris R. R. Company to extend their road over forty miles of the Suifalo and N. Y. city R. R. track. The travel now will be from Attica to Honellaville, instead of from Attica to Dorning.
Blander Suif.—John V. N. D. Fart et a. Alfred Housileville, instead of from Attion to Corning.

Blander Buit.—John V. N. De Hart vs. Alfred S. Cook.—This was an action for simules, the parties to the suit having Dees originally partners in the produce business in West Washington Barket. The plaintiff alleges that the definedant, after the dimolution of the copartnership, circuissed reports in Nov Jersey, destriments to his (pissintiffe) observeder, an injurious to his business: that the defendant had said in a conversation with one Enery, that the plaintiff was insolvent, and that it was unsafe to send to him for it and produce to be disposed of, as all his customers were sure to lose by him eventually. The defendant denies that he ever said any such thing, and svers that he never circulated reports that could in any way affect the plaintiff's character or business, in New Jersey or class the.
The case now came up on a motion for a co-mission to take the testimony of such persons as are alleged to have heard the reports in New Jersey. The metion was granted, but a skay of proceedings, in consecuence, was denied.

"PICTURES OF CALMORNIA."
THE NEW YORK MERCURY for December 10th contain he first of BAYARD TAYLOR'S new series, entitled PRITURES OF CALIFORNIA, TEN YEARS LATER." The "FIGURES OF CALIFORNIA, TEN YEARS LATER." These pictures or sketches not only possess all the charms which ever graced the writings of this distinguished traveler and author, but are also enrished by life-like drawings from Mr. TAYLON'S own pencil, thus giving drawings from Mr. Tatlon's own pencii, thus giving to the saries an interest and value which none of his former productions have ever possessed. The first sketch is descriptive of the author's passage to California, and is a most amusing and graphic illustration of the scenes incident to a sea-voyage. The subsequent papers will be descriptive of life and scenes in California, as now presented to one who had been among the early plonears of the Golden State; and the striking contrasts between new and then will be most effectively depicted by the gifted pen of the author. We advise every one to secure a copy of The New York Mercury to-day, which will also contain, among a host of good things, the opening chapters of a fascinating Arabian story, by the celebrated Dr. J. H. BORINSON.
